FURTHER FROM ELDER BALL. An Interesting Letter About Druid Hill Park BALTIMORE, July, 1877.

Druid Hill Park is a beautiful and opular resort. It contains 704 acres. The original purchase contained 500 cres, for which the city paid $1,000 per acre. The additional purchases were made at much higher figures. It is claim-ed by some that the sale of the additional 204 by other parties, at such advanced figures had a very serious, if not fatal 500 acres; as the man saw he might in all probability have gotten half a million more for his land. He died shortly after the additional lands were purchase at much higher rates than he had obtain the additional lands were purchased at much higher rates than he had obtained. I would be slow to conclude, however, that this hastened his death, and still such might be the case.

There is a large flock of sheep, and about five hundred deer upon these grounds. Every year they have to kill off quite a lot of them. They bark the trees, and in various ways become quite troublesome.

The street railway companies were so anxious to have these grounds bought and improved that they agreed to pay the city one-fifth of their earnings for this purpose. This has been done for fifteen years or more. Five years ago the Council reduced the percentage from the railway to one-twellth. So we see that the poorer class of the people have purchased and continue to improve these grounds. The money comes from these who ride on the streets of the people have purchased and continue to improve these grounds. So we see that the poorer class of the people have purchased and continue to improve these grounds. The money comes from those who ride on the street cars and not in family carriages. Thus the wealthy who have their fine "turnouts," enjoy their charming morning and evening drives about these beautiful grounds without money and without price, comparatively. Does this look equitable? Still there are on the other hand compensations for the street car population. They need not keep horses and carriages in order to visit these grounds. For a nominal sum the poor may enjoy this luxury mornings and evenings. And on Sabbath hundreds of families, where the father and the mother have labored hard from Monday morning till Saturday night, and whose children have been cooped up in the hot city, go out to the park where they rest beneath the deep shades on the green grass, amid springs of beautiful and pure waters and the singing of birds and all the surroundings that tone up both body and mind. They take lunch with them. All hands eat, rest, sleep, promenade, or play, as they may prefer. Of course I would prefer that these people go to church and send their children to Sunday school; but this they will not do, park or op park. Often zealous, Godly young men of the Christian Association visit the issigned the New York draft riots during the civil war.

Often realous, foolly young men of the Christian Association visit the grounds and held services with these crowls and deliver Iathful messages to thousands who never go inside of a church. No improper games are allowed, and order is maintained by a police force.

During the week the park is open and fee for Sunday school picnics, and the children have a nice time. My brother, with whom I stayed, resides near the park and immediately on the main thoroughlare to and Irom it. One morning we were altracted to the windows at an early hour by the voices of singing. If the people of the United States permit any such outrage to be consummated in this country, they will deserve all the lamentable consequences that will assuredly follow. The surrender of the Montreal Orangemen may not unlikely save the lives of many innocent people to-day, but they will be saved at This beautiful and attractive place, being free alike to all who conduct them selves properly, is thronged daily by the rich and the poor; by persons of leisure or of labor; and it is one of the best investments a city can make for people to-day, but they will be saved a the cost of what should be held in a fre sanitary purposes.

MOUNDSVILLE, July 13, 1877 mitted to the Water Board of Detroit

Perhaps it would not be fair, seated in In showing the comparative tax and cost rernaps it would not be lair, seated in our spacious Court-room, as I now am, to give you a description of our County Court as it appears to a looker-on while in session, but the temptation can scarcely be resisted, and craving the perdon of the honorable body, I will give a few items at least. of water in the cities named, Cleveland stands first as having the cheapest water items at least.

"I herewith submit a tabulated statement of the water rates in thirty-eight cities. The basis of these assessments so varies that it is very difficult to make any comparison, but any one can by these tables find what his own assessment would be at any of the different rates. I have, however, as an example, calculated the assessment of a first-class house, having all the water fixtures, by the rates lately received from a dozen different cities, as shown in the table given below. Of these cities ten are much higher than Detroit, while only Hartford and Cleveland are lower. As I cast my eyes around, my atten-tion is first called to our Honorable Judge, W. Alexander, who presides as though born to do so. He meets all the difficulties of the situation with that calm dignity which should always charcaim dignity which should always characterize a man in his position. He is ably assisted in his arduous duties by Esqn. Pelly and Bayne, and they make a trio of which we need not be ashamed. Just now our and they make a trìo of which we need not be ashamed. Just now our worthy Prosecuting Attorney, Jas. E. Hooton, is standing before the Judge, presenting some point of law in a very gentlemanly manner, whilst Robert McConnell, grown gray as he has in the service, now and then puts in a word just to keep matters straight. W. J. W. Cowden of your city is also participating in the proceedings of to-day and just now is addressing the Judge on some point, not of interest to the writer, and hence I will not report it. A great deal of the time of the court seems to be taken up and has been during the entire week in quibbling on small points, but as I am no lawyer perhaps I am incompetent to judge, so just consider the remark thrown in by way of observation. R. C. Holliday is just now urging the impanneling of a jury to try a case in which he is interested, and the parties in which are in waiting. This looks like business, but he is noted for pushing matters, as all lawyers, should be, but unfortunately but few of them are noted for it. Seated around the Clerk's deek, engaged in, no doubt, to them, an interesting conversation, are Equires J. A. Ewing, J. W. cal cities ten are much higher than Detroit, owhile only Hartford and Cleveland are lower.

But the present assessment in this city pays in addition to maintenance, interpetate the length of the pipeage, while in some, as Philadelphia and Milwaukee, lots in front of the pipeage, while in some, as Philadelphia and Milwaukee, lots in front of the pipeage, while in some, as Philadelphia and Milwaukee, lots in front of the pipe are laid are charged from a conters, as Cleveland, Hartford and Buffeld of the extension of the pipe is paid for in the general lax.

In an additional table I have given the rate per 100 gallons at which water is sold in the several cities. Thus, as we have seen, the assessed rates are here cities, while the water rates for the manufactories and other purposes are as low as they are anywhere.

In fact, if we take into account the amount of water distributed per capita, which is greater here than almost anywhere, the citizens of Detroit actually any much less for the water consumed than those of any other city. I have no doubt that if the enormous waste of water conducted than those of any other city. I have no doubt that if the enormous waste of water conducted than those of any other city. F. Meighen. These are all gentlemen of good legal ability, and are anxious, at all times, to secure as many clients as possible. J. W. P. Reid, Eaq., is seated by himself, busily engaged in writing, preparing, perhaps, some legal document for future use. The Sheriff has for some time been calling for Hanson Criswell, Eaq., but as this is nothing unusual it caused no excitement whatever. He is so busy that he screely ever has time to get into the court room, and as he now comes in his brother attorneys are complaining that he has kept them waiting, all of which he bears with that meek dignity for which he is famous. Seated at different points within the bar are our these young lawyers, O. S. Holliday, H. C. Crisswell and G. C. Knight, who were admitted to practice at the last term of our Circuit Court, and who are now listening to all the proceedings, laying up rich stores of useful, legal knowledge for future use. But I must not omit to mention our gentlemanly Clerk, Thos. Finn, who is always on hands to attend to the duties of his office and especially is he said to be prompt in receiving any fees that may accreas a are all gentlemen of good legal ability and are anxious, at all times, to secur The following is the table referred to as showing the price of water per year for a family of five persons in a first-class It will be observed that Cleveland is $2 and Hartford 50 cents below Detroit; all other cities are higher, and some very much higher, than this city. vation of the public peace, this surrender will seem a worthy and commendable concession to the interests of law and good order, and it certainly is an illustration of the superior forbearance and liberality of Protestantism over the bigotry and intolerance of Catholicism. But the case has a far more serious aspect. It is an abject and humiliating surrender to a spirit which grows more audacious and dangerous with every concession that is made to it. It is this sacrifice of the sacred and inalienable public rights of a body of Protestant cirizens to the despotism of Popery, the crafty and intolerant tyranny that dotted Europe over with inquisitions, planned the marsacre of St. Bartholomew, and has watered the soil of France, Spain, Germany and Italy with the blood of martyrs. It is a surrender to the same faction that in this country has burned churches and asylums, and True."

The incontrovertible testimony offered by those who who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription induced the doctor sell it under a positive guarantee.
